AVANT-PROPOS

Le bulletin de données conjoncturelles des États membres d'AFRISTAT (BDCEA) présente les données les plus récentes des États membres d'AFRISTAT ainsi que celles concernant l'environnement international. Il est disponible chaque trimestre aux dates suivantes : 31 janvier, 30 avril, 31 juillet et 31 octobre. En outre un numéro spécial sera publié le 15 mars de chaque année, pour répondre aux besoins de la réunion du Comité de Convergence de la Zone Franc (COCOZOF). Le bulletin doit permettre aux utilisateurs et décideurs d'avoir une vue d'ensemble des développements économiques les plus récents et l'information qu'il contient doit faciliter les comparaisons internationales et l'analyse des performances relatives des économies nationales.

Les indicateurs clés publiés ici couvrent l'environnement international, l'activité économique, les prix, le commerce extérieur, la monnaie, les finances ainsi que les finances publiques. Les données sont collectées régulièrement par la Direction générale auprès des sources nationales et internationales. En outre, la Direction générale calcule des estimations pour les données les plus récentes des taux de change, des cours des matières premières et du cours des actions. Ces estimations apparaissent en italique dans les tableaux.

Les données sont présentées sous forme de tableaux et de graphiques de façon à faciliter la comparaison entre les pays. Pour une lecture aisée de la publication, seuls certains pays sont représentés sur les graphiques. Les pays représentés seront changés régulièrement afin que tous puissent apparaître périodiquement dans les graphiques.

Des notes et définitions, à la fin de cette publication, facilitent la compréhension et la lecture des tableaux et des graphiques. Elles seront complétées dans le futur afin de donner une information plus détaillée sur les méthodologies utilisées dans le calcul de ces indicateurs, pour permettre à l'utilisateur d'estimer la qualité des données, la comparabilité internationale et aux pays de tirer profit des expériences des autres.

On indiquera enfin que la Direction générale d'AFRISTAT calcule les séries corrigées des variations saisonnières de l'indice de la production industrielle, du commerce extérieur et des séries des finances publiques. La méthode utilisée pour ces calculs est TRAMO-SEATS, développée par la Banque d'Espagne et utilisée par la plupart des pays européens.

Pour une analyse plus précise des évolutions de chaque économie nationale, le lecteur pourra se référer aux sites Internet des États membres ainsi qu'à ceux des organisations d'intégration régionale :

REMARQUES :

Les données de l'IPI exprimées dans la période de référence (2005=100) sont recalculées par AFRISTAT à partir des données issues des différentes périodes de base fournies par les États. Sauf pour le Burkina Faso, le Burundi, la Guinée et la Mauritanie dont les processus d'élaboration de cet indice ont été mis en place après 2005.

REMARQUES :

Le critère de convergence est fixé à 3% pour les Etats de l'UEMOA et pour ceux de la CEMAC. Ce critère est évalué sur la base de l'indice IHPC de la principale agglomération dans les États de l'UEMOA et d'un indice de couverture géographique plus élargie dans certains États de la CEMAC. Les taux sont calculés pour les autres États membres d'AFRISTAT à titre indicatif.
